

DOMESTIC AND INTERNATIONAL ACCREDITATION

In the sphere of domestic accreditation, Jahrom University of Medical Sciences has been accredited by the government of Iran. The act of accreditation is periodical and falls within the authority of three offices of the Ministry of Health and Medical Education. The Office of Education Development Council (EDC) is the body that scrutinizes the quality of education at different universities of medical sciences. The evaluation of medical practices and general conditions of hospitals, clinics, and other health centres affiliated to the universities of medical sciences is the duty of the Office of Deputy Minister for Treatment. And finally, the Office of Deputy Minister for Development is the third authority responsible for monitoring the structural and hardware expansion of all medical universities. Jahrom University of Medical Sciences at present has been ranked as a type 2 university in the country.
