

To train Skillful technicians for private and public labs, the university has received permission from the Ministry of Health, Treatment and Medical Education to train a limited number of UG graduates in the same field at Master degree level.

For this purpose, applicants have to pass through the entrance exam and attend for normally a two-year course in parasitology.

Studying more detailed and other issues will be part of education in this filed. Also master students have to submit a dissertation and appear for viva-voce before they receive their certificates.
